THE ART HOUR BIRDS COLORING BOOK

ABOUT THIS COLORING BOOK

We are excited to offer this coloring book, the third in a series of Art Hour original art workbooks, as an out-of-the-box, interactive resource for young artists to expand their artistic boundaries and technique. Inside this book, you will find not just coloring pages, but short stories and poems, as well as writing prompts that will challenge them to think creatively and use their imagination.

the theme for this book is "Birds," which serve as a symbol of taking flight and spreading one's wings. We hope to inspire and prepare each young artist who picks up this book to soar and achieve great heights, in the arts and beyond. By thinking critically about their goals and dreams in life, students will be able to facilitate self-growth as they complete this book.

We hope you all enjoy this book, and remember to fly high!

ABOUT THE ART HOUR

The Art Hour is a 501(c)3 youth-led nonprofit working to increase arts accessibility by offering free, virtual, one-hour art classes for 100,000+ youth from 6+ countries and in 5 different languages.

Our instructors are student artists currently studying at Los Angeles County High School for the Arts, the #1 arts high school in the US, and we offer classes in five different areas of study, encompassing both visual and performing arts, including music, dance, visual arts, theatre, and cinematic arts.

Our teachers have been honored by organizations such as YoungArts and Spotlight, and worked with Disney, Pixar, Carnegie Hall and more. Since 2021, we have expanded to an international level, and now encompass students both in the US and beyond.
